

Open Scholarship Priorities and Next Steps: Public Workshop

December 5, 2022 (Monday)
All Times US Eastern Standard Time

AGENDA

9:00 - 9:15 AM Welcoming Remarks, Roundtable Overview, Setting Today's Agenda

Thomas Kalil, Chief Innovation Officer, Schmidt Futures

Keith Yamamoto, Vice Chancellor for Science Policy and Strategy, University of California, San Francisco

Review theory of change, activities to date, and focus of current cycle. Preview purpose of today's public session - to get updates on the progress of each of our vectors; to highlight the workstreams underway to make open scholarship easier, more sustainable, and more rewarding; and to surface possible roadblocks and opportunities that can potentially be addressed through cross-sector collaboration.

9:15 - 10:45 AM Higher Education Perspectives/HELIOS Update

Geeta Swamy, Associate Vice President for Research and Vice Dean for Scientific Integrity, Duke University

LaKeisha Harris, Dean, School of Graduate Studies and Research, University of Maryland, Eastern Shore

Alicia Salaz, Vice Provost and University Librarian, University of Oregon

Athena Jackson, Dean of University Libraries, University of Houston

Kimberly Cox-York, Research Integrity Officer, Colorado State University

Share updates on each group's workstreams; how these efforts will generate actionable policies, resources, guidance, metrics, and/or infrastructure in support of open scholarship; lessons learned to date, next steps, and what help they could use from other sectors and/or members of the research community; and insights about articulated priorities for cross-sector collaboration, including asks and offers.

10:45 - 11:00 AM Break

11:00 - 12:00 Society & Association Perspectives/All4OS Update

Brooks Hanson, Executive Vice President-Science, American Geophysical Union

Yvette Seger, Director, Science Policy, FASEB- Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology

Ed Liebow, Executive Director, American Anthropological Association

Share perspectives on the raison d'être of this group; the structure of the Commitment→Action→Accountability framework; immediate term group priorities; prospects for expansion; and insights about articulated priorities for cross-sector collaboration, including asks and offers.

12:00 - 12:45 Break

12:45 - 2:00 Federal Perspectives

Chelle Gentemann, Program Scientist, NASA Transform to Open Science, National Aeronautics and Space Administration

Jerry Sheehan, Deputy Director for Policy and External Affairs, National Institutes of Health

Brett Bobley, Director and Chief Information Officer National Endowment for the Humanities

Alan Tomkins, Deputy Director, Division of Social and Economic Sciences, National Science Foundation

Provide insights into developments in the federal landscape; opportunities for cross-sector alignment; and visions for making open scholarship easier for both individual researchers and the organizations that support them.

2:00 - 3:00 PM Funder Perspectives

Erin McKiernan, Community Manager, Open Research Funders Group

Angela DeBarger, Program Officer-Education, William and Flora Hewlett Foundation

Nicholas Gibson, Director, Human Sciences, John Templeton Foundation

Cassaundra Amato, Senior Associate, Planning and Evaluation
John Templeton Foundation

Provide updates on the progress of open scholarship grantmaking policy development at scale; and share insights about articulated priorities for cross-sector collaboration, including asks and offers.

3:00 - 3:15 Closing Remarks

3:15 PM Adjourn Public Workshop